

Good morning! Please come in and complete the following DLP. There are two sentences today. When you finish, please complete the free-write that is located on the back board. Also, please have out your copy of RITS so I can come around and check annotations.

"Hey Elena, asked Steven Baron, Sr., as we unpacked, did you forget the grapes? You forgot the T-shirts, too? Oh, brother!"

The lungfish, an unusual animal, has both lungs and gills; therefore it can breathe either underwater or on land.
