

- 1.) At first, passengers on the titanic paid no attention to the emergency siren, they thought it was a false alarm.

- 2.) Tom dempsey of the new orleans saints was born with only half a right foot, in 1970 he kicked the longest feild goal in pro football history 63 yards.

- 3.) The Cactus Finch which lives on the galapagos islands displays a trait rarely seen in birds, it uses a cactus spine to dig for insects in trees and cacti.

- 4.) Kitty hawk is the name of a town. It is the town where orville and wilbur wright made the first powered airplane flite, it was also the name of the first hot-air baloon to fly nonstop from the west coast to the east coast.

- 5.) Teak loggers in myanmar use elefants to move the logs because elefants are cheaper than other transporting methods, they dont require forest-damaging roads.