

5/17/16

Monday, May 9, 2016 3:45 PM

Please underline the independent clauses once, the dependent clauses twice, and circle the subordinate beginners. Then label if the sentence is simple, compound, complex, or compound-complex.

1. As you can imagine, Jack was quite confused since he did not know how he fell, and he did not understand why Jill would not help him.
2. Jack painfully hobbled back to his home and wondered if Jill was okay.
3. After a few days, Jack finally decided to start his own rehabilitation since he could not afford to go to a hospital.
4. Jack spent weeks in an effort to get better, and he used Jill as his motivation to get better because he thought that she may be looking for him somewhere.