Good morning! Please come in and complete the following DLP exercise. There are two sentences today since we didn't do one yesterday.

Pet iguanas like to sit in high places however it is still a suprise when one jumps onto you're head.

Allowing species to become extinct is a big risk its imposible for us to kno which missing species will upset the whole balence of the earth.